

Guide for Discussing Assessment

This resource provides a guide to managing emotions around assessment. It outlines key messages that can help clarify the importance of assessment in teaching and learning as well as specific ideas about how to handle possible scenarios that may emerge as stakeholders review assessments embedded in the curriculum.

Key Messages:

- We believe our students are capable of performing well on challenging assessments aligned to the rigor of the standards. It is our responsibility to give students meaningful assessment opportunities that prepare them for college and careers.
- For many educators, assessments drive the ways we spend our time in the classroom and our expectations for students.
- We believe that assessment should be tied to daily instruction. Assessments support excellent teaching and learning and give us insight to our students' understanding.
- Teachers need assessments that spotlight grade-level standards and practices. This is critical to illuminating where students are and what they need to do to improve.
